Conditions

The German Shorthaired Pointer Rescue accepts no responsibility as to the description, condition or health of the animal adopted and gives no warranty of any kind expressed or implied.

Information concerning the habits and past history of the animal is passed on by the German Shorthaired Pointer Rescue to the adopter in good faith. This is based on statements made by the previous owner; however, there is no guarantee of reliability. The German Shorthaired Pointer Rescue is unable, therefore, to accept liability for any consequences whatever resulting from events attributable to the failure to give information or the transmission of wrong information.

The animal is believed to be in normal health except where specific conditions have been made known to the adopter. It is regretted that the German Shorthaired Pointer Rescue is unable to accept liability for expenses of any kind arising from sickness developed subsequently.

In cases where an animal is known to possess a specific condition, the presence of which is notified to the adopter, the responsibility for and cost of future treatment shall be solely that of the adopter.

Attention is drawn to the possible liability of those adopting animals for damage or injury which they may cause third parties or their property. In particular liability may arise in negligence under Section 8 of the Animals Act 1971 and in the case of dogs; Section 3 of the Act imposes a general liability on the keeper of a dog for causing death or injury to livestock. The possibility of an action for nuisance should also be recognised.

The German Shorthaired Pointer Rescue strongly advises all adopters to arrange appropriate insurance cover against risks referred to above and also the costs of veterinary treatment.

I have also read and agree to abide by the TERMS printed on the reverse (page 1).
